

of the East 126th Street station, who was near by. There is a general alarm out for these four.

Herman Pollock, proprietor of a candy store at 432 East Seventy-sixth Street, who was shot by one of two bandits who entered his store Friday afternoon, died last night at City Hospital, Blackwell's Island. The bullet had penetrated his abdomen.

Two men, alleged to be the bandits, were held without bail when arraigned yesterday before Magistrate Renaud in Yorkville court charged with felonious assault and attempted robbery. They described themselves as Frank Pecota, of 330 East Seventy-fourth Street, and Peter La Guardia, of 707 Adams Street, Hoboken.

Pollock was robbed of $2.95. The bandits fled after one of them shot the storekeeper. Pecota and La Guardia were arrested several hours later at Fifty Avenue and Seventy-third Street and were identified by Pollock at the hospital. With the death of Pollock a charge of homicide was substituted for the charges of felonious assault and attempted robbery against the prisoners. They are at the East Sixty-seventh Street station.

The facilities of Governor's Island Police station were crowded yesterday by the bankers and trust companies of New York through the clearing house. With the range goes expert instruction in the proper way to handle a bandit. It is estimated that the offer will be eagerly accepted by bankers, who persist in the opinion that an armed messenger is a better protection against robbery than the services of Commissioner Knickerbocker's "Don'ts."

Yorkville Sees No Crime

An official organization in New York which does not believe in crime is an undue prevalence of crime has been discovered. It is the Yorkville Chamber of Commerce. In a statement issued yesterday the chamber approved the fact that there was no crime in New York than anywhere else. The statement adds the opinion that Commissioner Enright is doing his best.

James L. Hamilton, Commissioner of Correction, said yesterday that the day that more punishment is not a real corrective of crime. Mr. Hamilton urges a closer observation of juvenile delinquents, and intensive hospital supervision and treatment of children who are mentally defective.

Joseph W. Conklin, in charge of the burglary, claim department of the New York Indemnity Company, blames unemployment as the cause of crime.

Patrick McCallum, 31 years old, of 232 East Thirty-fifth Street, and his brother John, a chauffeur of the same name, were charged at Headquarters yesterday with the murder of Harry Crane, former Corporation Counsel, who was killed by a stray bullet in a running fight between robbers and police on Friday night.

Bullet Pierced Heart

The police charge that the McCallum family and a time and a time ago, the McCallum family was concerned in the theft of a spare tire from an automobile standing outside the Biltmore. It is alleged that the tire was thrown into the Hudson river, which is now believed to be held by the McCallum family. The theft was observed by a patrolman, who gave chase and opened fire, which followed a bullet pierced Crane's heart. The bullet, according to Dr. Charles Morris, chief medical examiner, who yesterday performed an autopsy, was steel jacketed, of the type used in automatic pistols.

Magistrate Renaud, before whom the McCallum brothers appeared in Yorkville Court, held both prisoners without bail for examination on Wednesday next. The police said that both men have been previously arrested, but no convictions have ever been got against them.

Patrolman Percy Harmon, of the West 125th Street station, was called to 42 West 109th Street yesterday afternoon, where it was reported a burglar was hiding on the roof. With drawn revolver the patrolman was mounting the stairs, when he was shot from the roof, where he was thrown overboard and a negro attempted to push past him. The negro was subdued after a struggle and taken to the West 125th Street station.

The prisoner described himself as George Giles, nineteen years old, of 121 George Street, Jersey City. Mrs. Giles, who lives at 121 George Street, identified Giles as the burglar who looted her apartment on March 17, taking $100 in clothing and jewelry.

Detective Hoffman, of the West 125th Street station, who after questioning him Giles confessed to other burglaries in the neighborhood.

Gunfire was heard on Amsterdam Avenue last night, when a man was shot by a single bullet.

Patrolman Mahoney, of the West 125th Street station, saw three men, the doorway of a luncheon at Sixty-sixth Street and Amsterdam Avenue.

The man was attracted to the spot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Crime Clearing House Is Formed Out West

SPOKANE, Wash., April 8.—Plans for the formation of a clearing house for the collection and distribution of information concerning crimes and criminals were adopted to-day by the Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police.

"We are going after criminals in a new way," L. S. May, president of the association, said. "In the past we have waited until a crime had been committed, but in the future we will attempt to prevent the criminal from committing the crime."

$20,000 Provided for Motor Cars for Police

Estimate Board Agrees to the Transfer of Funds to Obtain Machines to Chase Bandits

Members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment yesterday agreed to transfer from the contingent fund of his department to the equipment fund the $20,000 needed to purchase six motor cars for use in the Detective Bureau to pursue criminals who employ automobiles in making their getaway. The special meeting of the board to consider the matter, as announced Friday, consequently was not held.

Commissioner Enright called on the Mayor, and when he left his office said that he had asked Commissioner Whelan, chairman of the Board of Purchase, to request the Board of Estimate to allow the purchase board to use the six cars without public letting, so that he might get them as soon as possible. Enright said he had made the request at the meeting of the board Tuesday and immediate consideration will be asked. If objection to immediate consideration should be made, the matter will be referred to the committee on public letting and a favorable report submitted to the board at the meeting a week from Tuesday.

The Police Commissioner also said that he had asked the Civil Service Commission to promote a new list of names for examination for patrolmen to obtain the 1,192 additional men granted by the Board of Estimate.

Joseph W. Conklin, in charge of the burglary, claim department of the New York Indemnity Company, blames unemployment as the cause of crime.

Patrick McCallum, 31 years old, of 232 East Thirty-fifth Street, and his brother John, a chauffeur of the same name, were charged at Headquarters yesterday with the murder of Harry Crane, former Corporation Counsel, who was killed by a stray bullet in a running fight between robbers and police on Friday night.

Patrolman Percy Harmon, of the West 125th Street station, was called to 42 West 109th Street yesterday afternoon, where it was reported a burglar was hiding on the roof. With drawn revolver the patrolman was mounting the stairs, when he was shot from the roof, where he was thrown overboard and a negro attempted to push past him. The negro was subdued after a struggle and taken to the West 125th Street station.

The prisoner described himself as George Giles, nineteen years old, of 121 George Street, Jersey City. Mrs. Giles, who lives at 121 George Street, identified Giles as the burglar who looted her apartment on March 17, taking $100 in clothing and jewelry.

Detective Hoffman, of the West 125th Street station, who after questioning him Giles confessed to other burglaries in the neighborhood.

Gunfire was heard on Amsterdam Avenue last night, when a man was shot by a single bullet.

Patrolman Mahoney, of the West 125th Street station, saw three men, the doorway of a luncheon at Sixty-sixth Street and Amsterdam Avenue.

The man was attracted to the spot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.

Mahoney picked out one of the trio and he was driving as he went. In the hall of an apartment house at 121 George Street, he was charged with felonious assault and held in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

Samford is charged with shooting Patrick Mahoney, twenty-eight, of 219 West 135th Street, who was shot by a single bullet in the West 135th Street police station, who was shot by a crash of glass, and ran up the men scattered, each running in a different direction.